

Faubus Pledges Support to John Kennedy

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—Gov. Orval E. Faubus said today he will support Democratic presidential nominee John Kennedy, but he disavowed the party's platform and its strong civil rights plank.

Faubus issued a formal statement at a press conference, remarking that he wanted to clarify his position on the November presidential election.

"I am a Democratic office holder and the recipient of that party's confidence and trust," Faubus said in the statement. "I am also a Democratic nominee, which conflicts the Democratic Party to my support."

Faubus won overwhelming re-nomination to a fourth term in Arkansas' Democratic primary July 26.

Faubus said, "Let me add that this is no endorsement of some of the policies set out in its (the party's) national platform with which I strongly disagree."

The governor is known to oppose the civil rights plank.

Newsman pressed Faubus for elaboration, but the governor said he would stick with the statement.

Faubus has not been close to the national party since the Little Rock integration crisis of 1957 when he used National Guard troops to block integration of Central High School.

While the Democratic Party was in the process of choosing its presidential nominee, Faubus refrained from endorsing any candidate. He had indicated he favored Sen. Lyndon Johnson of Texas, the man eventually chosen as the Democratic vice presidential nominee.

Faubus' position was forestalled yesterday when the Democratic State Committee chose eight presidential electors referred to by Party Secretary Tom Harper of Fort Smith as "stomped-down Democrats." Harper called on the electors to vote for Kennedy-Johnson ticket if they are elected in November.

"We can be sure these electors will vote for the candidates nominated by the Democratic Convention at Los Angeles," Faubus said.

Under a 1959 Arkansas law, electors are not bound to vote for the nominee of the party under whose standard they campaign.

Prescott School Suit Before Judge

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—The president of the Prescott School Board wants the Pulaski Circuit Court to prevent the State Workmen's Compensation Commission from hearing a precedent-setting case involving a teacher's widow.

H. H. McKenzie filed suit yesterday both in his official capacity and a patron of the school district asking an injunction to prohibit the commission from hearing the claim of Mrs. Donald Muse. She filed the claim, which would bring a total of $12,760, in connection with her husband's death of a heart attack last March.

The first such case to be filed raises the question of whether a teacher is a state employee and thus covered by state compensation laws.

House Against Senate Version of Sugar Bill

WASHINGTON (AP)—The House Agriculture Committee voted today to reject the Senate version of the controversial sugar bill and to stand on the House version.

The committee action created a near deadlock between the House and Senate as Congress sought to adjourn.

The vote on the motion was 18-11, with one member listing himself only as "present."

Chairman Harold C. Cooley (D-NC) was directed not to agree to a conference with the Senate unless that body requested it.

In other words, any House attempts to send the bill to conference would be resisted, under the motion.

The House and Senate have been at loggerheads over whether President Eisenhower should have unlimited authority to cut sugar purchases from the Dominican Republic.

A House bill would have given him limited authority, but it imposed conditions which Senate Republican Leader Everett M. Dirksen said would be impossible to meet.

The Senate, by a 62-17 vote, passed instead a substitute by Dirksen to give the President discretionary power, with no strings attached, to cut or terminate the Dominican quota. The House then quit for the night rather than try to reach any immediate agreement.

At that time, the House had been in session 15½ hours and the Senate more than 18 hours in an effort to wind up the session and clear the way for active political campaigning.

It was the second time this year that the tough problem of sugar had delayed adjournment. The two houses had battled into early Sunday morning, July 3, over giving Eisenhower authority to cut Cuba's sugar quota. At that time Congress was trying to quit for a month for the political conventions.

All other major legislation had been disposed of Wednesday night in the adjournment drive.

Compromising their differences, the Senate and House voted to give Eisenhower 65 million dollars more for foreign aid—much less than the 190 million the Senate had voted. House conferees had refused to agree to any addition until the House itself voted the added amount.

A limited housing bill was pushed through both houses. It extends the FHA home improvement loan program and provides added funds for loans for college dormitories and such municipal projects as water and sewage systems.

The Senate sent to the White House a bill authorizing a new 600-million-dollar aid program for Latin America, for which money will be asked next year.

The House, by a 371-32 vote, completed congressional action on a bill to increase price supports for butterfat and milk despite opponents' cries that it was a political move likely to be vetoed. Advocates contended it would give dairy farmers a needed lift.

Court Decides Future of Dollarway

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—A school board official speculated today that future integration policies in the Dollarway District would be determined by a federal district court at Little Rock.

Lee Parham, president of the Dollarway School Board, reiterated that a decision of the Eighth U. S. Circuit Court of Appeals at St. Louis Tuesday did not alter the board's plan to open schools in the nearby Dollarway District next week.

The appeals court ruled that the Dollarway Board had not made a reasonable start toward integration. Before the running the board had assigned a six-year-old Negro girl to the first grade of the all-white Dollarway School for the fall term.

Parham said he had talked with two Dollarway Board attorneys now attending an American Bar Assn. meeting in Washington. He said the board would meet with the attorneys this weekend to confer on precautionary measures which might be taken in connection with school opening.

"The recent opinion (by the appeals court) does not alter the plan of the board to open the school term Tuesday, nor does it change any assignments of students which have been made by the board," Parham said in a prepared statement.

"The extent to which the opinion will require the board to change its policies in the future cannot be determined at this time. It now appears that the question will ultimately be resolved by a further hearing in the district court at Little Rock."

Parham said the first day of school for students in Grades 2 through 9 would be Tuesday, and that the first day of school for students in Grades 10, 11 and 12 would be Wednesday.

The Negro girl, Delores Jean York, 6, is a first grader.

Highway Jobs Let Totaling $7 Million

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—The Arkansas Highway Commission apparently won't use this year a 1959 act which would allow it to issue $7 million dollars in highway bonds.

Chairman Lawrence Blackwell, asked yesterday about the possibility of a bond issue, said, "I don't anticipate making use of the bond measure." Other commissioners indicated agreement.

The legislature approved a plan allowing the department to issue $21 million in bonds over a three-year period. The Commission didn't take advantage of it last year, the first year bonds could have been issued.

The bonds would require approval by voters.

The Commission awarded contracts on 13 road and bridge projects totaling $4,201,000 on which bids were received yesterday.

The Commission also eased its regulations on utility crossings on the interstate system and controlled access roads to eliminate a requirement that utility companies be underground. Utility companies had objected to this requirement.

The Commission also approved a northern route proposed for relocation of Highway 65 through Pine Bluff and named an advisory committee to study insurance for a new Mississippi River bridge near Helena.

Construction of area headquarters at Clinton, Marked Tree, Hope, Harrison and Lincoln, at a cost of about $15,000 each also was approved.

Also approved was construction of a Little Rock district headquarters for $200,000 on a site which may eventually be developed into a new Highway Department location.

Projects programmed for construction were:

Craighead County—Replacing timber bridge on Highway 61 near Cash, $2,100.

Crawford County—Resurfacing two miles of U. S. Highway 64, $10,250.

Crittenden County—Rebuilding paved slope at grade separation on Interstate 40, $6,000.

Cross County—Reconstruction of about three miles of Highway 42, $17,400.

Mississippi County—Rebuilding and resurfacing Highway 119 at Highway 18 junction, $3,620; widening bridge on Highway 181 near Keiser, $2,200; widening bridge on Highway 138 near Vicksburg, $10,000.

Suggestion by Harris Disputed

WASHINGTON (AP)—A suggestion by Rep. Oren Harris (D-Ark) that possible corruption had figured in government regulation of motor freight carriers has been strongly disputed by the Interstate Commerce Commission.

"Most emphatically," the ICC said in a statement, "there has been no corruption on the part of the commission and we have been unable to find any misconduct on the part of our staff."

Would Bar Lobbying Lawmakers

WASHINGTON (AP)—The American Bar Assn. today urged that Congress members and others be prohibited from lobbying on behalf of their friends or constituents during final proceedings before federal regulatory agencies.

The ABA House of Delegates acted after John W. Crugan of Washington reported that "an executive civil" had developed at the Civil Aeronautics Board because "politicians and others" have been permitted to swell the record of numerous cases which have already been through the hearing stage and have produced recommendations from hearing examiners.

The resolution was submitted by the chairman of one of the regulatory agencies, Earl W. Kintner of the Federal Trade Commission. Kintner is chairman of the ABA section on administrative law.

Kintner reported that the head of another agency brought the problem to his attention and sought a solution. He did not name the agency head involved but it was learned that he referred to Whitney Gilliland of the CAB.

"The custom has grown up of members of Congress, the Senate, presidents of chambers of commerce and mayors appearing before his agency," Kintner said.

In another action, the House of Delegates adopted a resolution which said that if a government health care program for the aged is necessary, it should be a joint federal-state operation outside the Social Security system.

WILLCOX, Ariz. (AP)—Mr. and Mrs. Elwood E. McMahan of Magnolia, Ark., were killed yesterday when their car struck a bridge abutment on state Highway 26 about six miles west of Willcox.

Their son, Eddie, 7, was thrown out of the car. He was treated for shock at a Willcox hospital.

McMahan, 29, and his 25-year-old wife, Patricia, were headed for Tucson to visit relatives. The Arizona Highway Patrol reported McMahan apparently fell asleep at the wheel.

Cubans Are Changing Foreign Signs

HAVANA, Cuba (AP)—Confident it has won its battle for oil, the Cuban government's petroleum monopoly is now trying to wipe out all physical signs of foreign ownership of the refineries it seized.

Pipe trucks and filling stations of Esso, Shell and Texaco refineries have lost their distinctive colors and well-advertised names and slogans.

All this has been replaced by the green and white sign of ICP—for Fidel Castro's Institute of Cuban Petroleum.

Station pumps and storage tanks throughout Cuba have been repainted to erase the markings of the multimillion-dollar American, Dutch and British oil holdings Castro seized because the owners refused to process Soviet crude oil.

Unofficial reports say the Soviet Union's tankers are more than satisfying Cuba's immediate need for both crude oil and petroleum products. But the cost of this long-distance operation—bringing Soviet oil from Black Sea ports to Cuba—has not been disclosed.

Thirteen tankers delivered nearly a million tons of crude oil to Cuba in July plus 125,000 tons of fuel oil and quantities of other products. The same delivery rate was maintained in August, official sources claim.

Session Will Start in N. Y. September 20

LONDON (AP)—Soviet Premier Nikita S. Khrushchev will attend the 15th session of the United Nations Assembly in New York, Moscow Radio announced tonight. The session begins Sept. 20.

Khrushchev previously had said he would like to head the Soviet delegation to the meeting.

A meeting of the heads of all the Communist states in Eastern Europe may be shaping up for the Assembly session. It was announced earlier that George Gheorghiu-Dea, the chief of Rumania's Communists, will attend.

This will be Khrushchev's second visit to the United States. He traveled across the nation last year at the invitation of President Eisenhower.

No invitation will be involved in the trip coming up, since heads of states with U. N. membership have the privilege of going to U. N. headquarters at any time.

Russia Yells for UN to Give Up Bases

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (AP)—Soviet Union demanded Wednesday night that Secretary General Dag Hammarskjold turn over the two big Belgian bases in the Congo to Premier Patrice Lumumba's government as soon as possible.

Soviet Deputy Foreign Minister Vasily M. Kuznetsov called on Hammarskjold at U. N. headquarters, protested the continued presence of some 600 Belgian combat troops in the Congo and also demanded that the secretary-general abandon his plan to let an equal number of Belgian army technicians remain to maintain the Kamina and Kilima bases just taken over by U. N. forces.

Kuznetsov insisted that the Belgian technicians be replaced by personnel from other countries. The Soviet aim obviously was to put Lumumba in control of the Kamina base, which is in rebel Katanga province. With forces loyal to Katanga Premier Moïse Tshombe in control of all other air strips in the province, Lumumba needs the big bases' runway to land soldiers. He has massed for an invasion attempt to overthrow Tshombe.

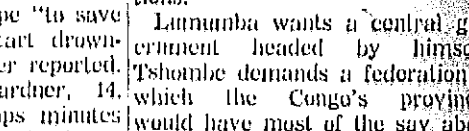

Hammarskjold previously had announced neutralization of both the Kamina and Kilima bases and said they would be used only by U. N. personnel. He hoped, apparently, that if Lumumba's and Tshombe's soldiers were kept apart, the two leaders would settle their differences in negotiations.

Lumumba wants a central government headed by himself. Tshombe demands a federation in which the Congo's provinces would have most of the say about their own affairs.

Kuznetsov presented his demands shortly after Hammarskjold had protested to the Belgian government against delay in getting the last Belgian combat force out of the strife-torn nation.

Candidates in Goodbyes to Congress

By JACK BELL

WASHINGTON (AP) — Both presidential candidates had critical goodbyes to the Congress which is to wind up today its politically heated summer session.

Sen. John F. Kennedy of Massachusetts served notice that he will be around in January—either as president-elect or senator—to bring up again some of the things they didn't do.

Vice President Richard M. Nixon, his Republican rival, said Congress had been called back after the party conventions for political purposes and had failed to enact a program.

Nixon, hospitalized with an infected knee, said through Herbert G. Klein, his press secretary, that "certainly it is not surprising that the leaders of the Democratic party have not produced the type of program" President Eisenhower and he advocated.

Kennedy criticized Southern Democrats, as well as Republicans, for balking the passage of legislation keyed to his party's platform.

He told his colleagues Wednesday that if he had accepted a stripped-down House version of a minimum wage bill the action would have forced further progress in this field for several years.

Instead, he said, he chose to let the bill die so that it could be revived in a new Congress and with a new president.

Kennedy can contend in the campaign that if he is president he can reverse the present situation. He would have within his own party in Congress sufficient support to uphold almost any veto. He could throw back any bills passed by a coalition of conservative Democrats and Republicans and thus pressure legislation in the direction he points.

On the other hand, unless Nixon can perform the near miracle of carrying the Republicans to control of the House, he will be in the same position as President Eisenhower.

He will have to depend on the old Republican-Southern Democratic coalition to produce the votes for his program. He will have to use his veto power as a club to influence the course of legislation.

Even Republican control of the House wouldn't change this materially. In the end his administration would have to accept some half-loaf compromises between a Republican House and a Democratic Senate.

Negotiators Try to Halt Strike

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Negotiators today resumed their last ditch effort to head off a strike that would completely halt operations of the Pennsylvania Railroad, the nation's largest.

Michael J. Quill, president of the Transport Workers Union, already had informed the union's 46 locals that the talks were "hopelessly deadlocked."

Strike Idles Largest Rail in Nation

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — A long-threatened strike stalled the Pennsylvania Railroad along its entire length today, and the economy of 13 states from Eastern seaboard to the Midwest skipped a few beats as thousands felt the impact.

It was the first full shutdown in the railroad's 114-year history.

Although negotiations continue, there seemed little chance of an early settlement of a dispute, now three years old, over work rules and what the Transport Workers Union and an associated union call job integrity and security.

Picket lines were posted on the dot-12:01 a.m. deadline given in the unions' ultimatum. In Philadelphia, Michael J. Quill, TWU president, led the first turnout of pickets carrying banners and cards proclaiming their demands.

Philadelphia's big 30th Street Terminal — one of the great rail hubs of the country — was ghost-like. People gathered outside and stared, fascinated by the lack of activity.

And in New York, the Pennsylvania Station was a vast tomb amidst the usual Manhattan hubbub. Ticket windows, shops, other concessions were closed.

Trains of the Long Island and New Haven Railroads were affected, too. The Pennsylvania Station is the Manhattan terminal for the Long Island, which normally moves 85,000 commuters in and out daily. It also is used by Boston-to-Washington trains of the New Haven.

But in both Philadelphia and New York swarms of commuters got to work despite the strike. The Reading Railroad in Philadelphia put on extra and longer trains. It estimated its passenger load jumped 25 to 30 per cent. Bus, trolley and streetcar lines pitched in to help carry the load. Car pools formed in the suburbs, and there was even an uncommon re-

Bill Keeps Alive Housing Programs

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate today quickly passed and sent to the House a stripped-down three-point bill to keep three housing programs alive until Congress comes back in January.

The three items are:
1. A one-year extension of the FHA home improvement loan program. It is due to expire Oct. 1.

2. 500 million dollars of additional loan funds for college dormitories. This program is out of money and more than 250 million dollars of applications are piled up.

3. 50 million dollars of new loan money for the community facility program covering such things as city water plants and sewage systems. Funds for these also are exhausted.

PHILADELPHIA, Pa. (AP) — A strike shut down the entire Pennsylvania Railroad today for the first time in its 114-year history. There was no immediate prospect of an early settlement.

Negotiators continued to work for a settlement almost until the 12:01 a.m. deadline. Then, with the deadline past, angry statements were issued by the company and union officials. They seemed to wipe out whatever progress had been made in several weeks of intense bargaining.

"The negotiations are back to scratch," said James R. Symes, board chairman of the railroad. "They are broken, not recessed."

Francis A. O'Neill Jr., chairman of the National (Railway) Mediation Board said he would meet today with union officials and perhaps with company leaders.

He said there were no plans for a joint meeting before Saturday. The 20,000 nonoperating employees of the nation's largest railroad struck to obtain job classifications and to stop the railroad from contracting repair work to outside companies.

The two unions involved—the Transport Workers and the System Federation—set up picket lines at stations, shops and yards along the Penn's 10,000 miles of track, from New York and other East Coast points to St. Louis.

The shutdown and the picketing were orderly. The railroad furnished its 52,000 other employees for the duration of the strike. No passengers were stranded, for the railroad saw to it that no trains were enroute to destinations when the strike began.

But 50,000 loaded freight cars were stranded, although none contained perishables, the railroad said.

The big Pennsylvania stations in New York, Philadelphia, Pittsburgh, Washington and St. Louis were almost empty. Some 136,000 daily passengers, 73,000 of them commuters, were without transportation. About 118,000,000 tons of freight a day was halted.

The most immediate effect will be on commuters, but if the strike lasts, the pinch will be felt by industries in the East and Midwest. The railroad operates in 13 states and the District of Columbia.

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Negotiators today resumed their last ditch effort to head off a strike that would completely halt operations of the Pennsylvania Railroad, the nation's largest.

Michael J. Quill, president of the Transport Workers Union, already had informed the union's 46 locals that the talks were "hopelessly deadlocked."

People Failed Says Florida's Governor

TALLAHASSEE, Fla. (AP) — Gov. Leroy Collins said today Jacksonville's racial flareup resulted from a breakdown in human relations which everyone in that city must accept responsibility for.

He said that if the city had had an effective biracial committee working there, it was a "strong chance" that the outbreak of violence could have been avoided.

"I do not know of anything I could have done that was not done as a precautionary matter," he said in discussing the Jacksonville problem at his weekly news conference.

The governor said he was encouraged by formation of a biracial committee by Jacksonville ministers.

Collins, a moderate on the racial question, was asked for comment on a statement by Gov. Orval Faubus of Arkansas that the Jacksonville situation indicated that "the moderate governor there hasn't control of the situation."

Martin Resigns From Monsanto

EL DORADO, Ark. (AP) — T. M. Martin has retired as vice president and director of Monsanto Chemical Co. and president of the firm's Lion Oil Division.

His retirement was announced today.

"I see no purpose in sharing our shame," Collins replied. "The people of Little Rock are ashamed of what has happened there and the people of Florida should be ashamed of what happened in Jacksonville. The governors of both states should do everything possible to prevent these things happening again."

Collins, a moderate on the racial question, was asked for comment on a statement by Gov. Orval Faubus of Arkansas that the Jacksonville situation indicated that "the moderate governor there hasn't control of the situation."

Mr. and Mrs. James William Fincher

The First Baptist Church in Manila, Ark., was the setting Saturday evening at 7:30 o'clock for the marriage of Miss Wanda Joann Whitney and James William Fincher.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Woodrow Whitney of Manila, Ark.

Mr. Fincher is the son of Mr. and Mrs. William H. Fincher of Hope, Ark.

The Rev. Guy Whitney of Paragould, uncle of the bride, assisted by the Rev. Emmitt Phipps of Manila officiated at the ceremony.

Tall pedestal baskets of white gladioli tied with gleaming white satin, and candelabra holding white tapers were roped together with white silk tulle cord forming the background for the bridal party.

Miss Barbara Meddrick of Fort Smith, organist, and Janice Sany of Recton, Ark., vocalist, presented the nuptial music. Miss Sany sang, "O Promise Me," and "Because."

Guy Whitney, Jr., of Paragould and Danny Castleman of Elaine, cousins of the bride, lighted the tapers.

Miss Nann Maxine Whitney attended her sister as maid of honor. Bridesmaids were Miss Mary Jo Fincher of Little Rock, sister of the groom, Miss Jeannie Alley, Mountain Home, Miss Nancy Holl, and Miss Taphan Ellis of Manila. Miss Judy Whitney of Paragould, cousin of the bride, was junior bridesmaid.

Gowns of the feminine attendants were of Rainbow hues, pink, orchid, green, blue and yellow. Their dresses featured a light fitted bodice of lace dyed to match the colors of the bouffant skirts of silk organza over tulle. Their hats of tulle and ribbon complimented their gown in color.

They carried nose gays of yellow Marguerite daisies. The bride entered the sanctuary on the arm of her father, wearing a gown of Imported French Chantilly lace over satin tulle, fashioned with a fitted bodice which fastened with self covered buttons, a portrait neckline embroidered with pearls, and long sleeves with pearl points over the hands. Her full skirt worn over hoops, extended into a cathedral train. She wore a finger tip veil of French illusion, which fell from a cap of lace embroidered with pearls. She carried a bouquet of white pom pom daisies atop a white Bible.

Michel Toliver of Lepanto, cousin of the bride, was ring bearer. He carried the rings in two lace covered bells, the rings hanging down and forming the clapper.

Walter Smiley of Hot Springs attended Mr. Fincher as best man. Groomsman were Larry Arnold, Joppe, cousin of the groom, James Cornelius, Hope, Walt Caery and Jerry Caery, Elaine, cousins of the bride.

Mrs. Whitney chose for her daughters wedding a dress of pastel blue pure silk with white accessories.

A reception followed in the church social rooms. Receiving with the bride couples were their mothers.

The bride's table was overlaid with a lace cloth and centered with an arrangement on a silver tray of white Shasta daisies and silver maline buds, surrounding a large wedding and engagement ring, and flanked by crystal candelabra holding white tapers. White daisies encircled the tiered cake.

She Loves Man With a Past

By HELEN WORDEN ERSKINE

Dear Helen:

I am 31, have completed high school, taken a business course, now hold a position as secretary to a lawyer, and am deeply in love. Here's the problem: Mum and Dad are against my boyfriend and I'm marrying. He is an ex-convict. But even they recognize the change in him during our relationship. They like him but not for a social law. He holds an excellent job.

We are at the end of our rope and think we shall elope. Do you advise this or should I stop seeing him to please my parents whom I greatly love? —Worried Dear Helen:

You are of age, have a trained mind and should be able to appraise all aspects of this difficult situation. Someone is bound to be hurt no matter what your decision. Is your love strong enough to forsake all others—including your parents—for this man with a prison record? If you have any children will you tell them about their father's past? Does he possess the moral courage, kindness, tolerance, patience, breadth of vision, and understanding so essential to a father, particularly to one with a past to live down?

As a crime reporter I have known several ex-convicts who became model husbands and fathers; so you are not attempting the impossible. But before you take the final step, be sure of your man and your heart.

Dear Helen:

My husband is in the Service. We are home on leave. The other night we went to see his brother and sister-in-law. They were out and had a baby sister. I left to put our son to bed and my mother-in-law's. My husband returned to his brother's. As soon as our boy was asleep I went back too. The baby sister was lying on the chest of drawers beside my husband, her hair a mess. Continued from Page Four

CHAPTER XXII

Brett, with three of the tough string ridden, was more than half in a mood by the middle of the morning to finish out the day. He told "Tice" about, and call it a day. It was grueling work under the best of conditions, and in this kind of weather it was near murder. He sank back against the poles, soaked with sweat.

His mind was numb from the pounding he had taken, every movement a misery, every breath a burning anguish. The old wound in his leg was filled with fire, but he finally limped over to the tank and soaked his throbbing head. He felt enough restored after a while to get up and cut a little of the dust from his grimy clothes. He took another look around, wondering what was keeping "Tice." He should have been here by this time.

He eyed the ridges again, staring long toward the timber. He could comprehend their not coming while darkness remained. "Flagger" at least, having too much savvy to risk riding into any chance of an ambush, but it had been light for six hours. Shouldn't take more than three to get here from Currycomb?

Maybe Flagger had refused to have anything to do with it. Didn't seem to likely. Flagger had his end to keep up. No matter how reluctant the man might be, self-interest would exert a considerable pressure and there string with Hobbied O or make a could be no neutrality. He had to deal with the small spreads. From what Brett had seen and heard the night Tice had gotten Trone thrown out of the Assn. of course Flagger could follow. There was always hope of some amicable settlement, and Flagger wouldn't be the first to be left holding that illusion. Nobody with sense would fight Jo Fasken.

His worries piled up, magnifying themselves. Wouldn't be too much sound away from there even to start with and, riding like he'd been, he mightn't have heard it if there had been. He was half of a mind to ride over to that draw and find out right now if Tice had been around. He even started for his horse, saddle in hand, then hooted himself out of it.

He crawled into the pen through the poles with his saddle.

Trone, at Scab 8, was up by eight, bumping around with his bloodstod stars, knocking holes in the tops of several tins of tomatoes. This helped, but not enough.

The only hitch that occurred to Vic's mind was the possibility—once they got him in prison—of the law catching up with that old bank business. But this didn't seem too likely. Yuma was a long ways from Kansas and not even the Pinkertons would look to find him in prison.

He lifted down the rifle that was over the antlers in the sitting room, tugged down the brim of his hat and stepped into the slash of the midmorning sun. He was halfway across the burning dust of the yard, heading for the horse trap, when the sound of approaching hoofs spun him around with a lift of panic. It was too soon for Stoker—too late for flight.

He was half ringed by the shapes of waiting men, caught flatfooted in the glint of their weapons.

Court to Hear Integration Slow Plea

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Three requests to halt or slow down public school integration were due to come before the U.S. Supreme Court today.

The Houston school board pinned its last hopes on the high court after Texas Gov. Price Daniel refused to intervene in a federal court order integrating the first grade next Wednesday.

Louisiana Gov. Jimmie Davis seeks to regain control of New Orleans schools, ordered to integrate first grade Nov. 14. A three-judge federal court told Davis to keep hands off after he took over the schools under a state law in an effort to forestall integration. Negro attorneys will seek to have the date speeded up to Sept. 8.

In the third case, Delaware is protesting an order to speed up the state's grade-a-year integration plan. The speedup, ordered by a lower federal court would integrate all grades by next fall.

Arkansas Bar Asso. Awarded

WASHINGTON (AP) — The American Bar Assn. today conferred awards of merit on five state and local associations for outstanding activities programs during 1960.

The ABA also presented traffic court awards to a number of cities, counties and states for progress in improving the performance of their courts since Jan. 1, 1959.

Among large state bar associations, the ABA award of merit went to the Missouri Bar for increasing public responsibility toward the law and the courts; improving the professional competence of its members through education programs and outlining steps lawyers should take to assure economic security.

Among state associations having fewer than 2,000 members, the top award went to the Arkansas Bar for leadership in setting up the Arkansas Bar Foundation, Missouri and Oregon won the traffic court awards for states.

St. Louis Is Showing Most Improvement

By JOE REICHLER
Associated Press Sports Writer

There's no longer any doubt. The most improved club in the National League is the St. Louis Cardinals and the most improved manager is the Redbirds' Solly Hemus.

Only Pittsburgh's Danny Murphree stands between Hemus and the coveted honor of National League's Manager of the Year.

In his first year as a big league manager, Hemus last season piloted the Cardinals to an undistinguished seventh place finish. His team won only 71 games, losing 83.

With a full month still to go in the 1960 campaign, Hemus' Cardinals won their 71st game Wednesday night, squeezing out a 2-1 decision over Cincinnati. They have lost 65. The victory boosted the Cards to second place, only 6 1/2 games behind league-leading Pittsburgh.

The Pirates whipped San Francisco 7-3. The Milwaukee Braves, beaten 5-4 in 10 innings of the opener, won the second game from the Chicago Cubs, 11-7. Los Angeles downed Philadelphia 3-1.

In the American League, Baltimore's second-place Orioles defeated Cleveland 6-3 after the first-place Yankees had been held to a split in Kansas City in an afternoon doubleheader. The Yankees won the opener 1-0 but the A's took the second game 6-0. Washington beat Chicago's White Sox 2-1 and Detroit snapped Boston's five-game winning streak 4-2.

Rookie left-hander Ray Sadecki and veteran outfielder Walter Moryn of the Cards teamed up to defeat the Reds. Sadecki pitched a six-hitter for his eighth triumph.

Roberto Clemente's hot bat cooled off the Giants in San Francisco. The Pittsburgh outfielder rapped three hits, including his 12th homer, drove in two runs and scored two more, as the Pirates overcame an early 3-0 deficit. Clem Labine, in relief, was credited with the victory.

The Braves walloped five home runs in their twin bill in Chicago but a couple of Cubs' homers beat them in the opener. A four-bagger by Bob Will, off Lew Burdette in the 10th inning, was the decisive blow. Another by Don Zimmer in the ninth, had tied the score 4-4.

In the second game, three-run homers by Bill Bruton and Eddie Mathews (No. 31), featured a 13-hit Milwaukee attack against five pitchers.

Roger Craig hurled a six-hitter and Junior Gilliam drove in all three Los Angeles runs in the Dodgers' triumph over Philadelphia.

He lifted down the rifle that was over the antlers in the sitting room, tugged down the brim of his hat and stepped into the slash of the midmorning sun.

He was halfway across the burning dust of the yard, heading for the horse trap, when the sound of approaching hoofs spun him around with a lift of panic. It was too soon for Stoker—too late for flight.

Americans May Pick Up Some Points Today

By TED SMITS

Associated Press Sports Editor

ROME (AP)—Germany's rock-climber Armin Hary ended United supremacy in the 100-meter today by winning the Olympic crown despite a lunging finish

Dave Sims, the Duke flash, was the first time since 1928

at the United States had failed to win the 100-meter event. Three

Americans had qualified for the six-man final.

Hary, holder of the world record of 10.2 seconds flat, equaled his own Olympic record of 10.2

seconds as he leaped into the lead with a great start and just barely fought off the lunging American from Durham, N.C. for the gold medal.

The crowd of 50,000 watching in the sun-drenched stadium roared when the officials declared Hary

the winner after a 15-minute huddle.

Sims was given the same time as the winner, Frank Budd of Asbury Park, N.J., was fifth in 11.3 and Ray Norton of Oakland, Calif., sixth, in 11.4.

Although the U.S. sent three qualifiers into Friday's semifinals in the 400-meter hurdles, it was wiped out completely in the 800-meter race, an event that has been won by an American in every

Olympic Games since Johnny

Woodruff won in 1936.

Russia did the expected in women's track, taking two more gold medals for a total of three in track and 11 in overall competition.

Elvira Ozolina, a slightly built

Russian, won the javelin throw with an Olympic record toss of 183 feet, 8 inches. Irina Press copped the other first for Russia

by winning the 80-meter hurdles.

The first three finals of today's program increased Russia's lead over the United States in the unofficial standings. Russia had

10 1/2, the United States 11, and Germany 11.

By TED SMITS

Associated Press Sports Editor

ROME (AP)—Gary Tobian,

Uncle Sam's diving ace, moved into the lead with a splendid performance in the semifinals of the platform event, and Wilma Rudolph of Clarksville, Tenn., led all preliminary qualifiers in the women's 100-meter dash today as the sixth full day of competition got under way in the Olympic Games.

It was a day that dawned with bright expectations for the United States in its bid to overhaul Russia in the unofficial team point standings.

Finals were scheduled in the men's high jump, where John

Thomas of Cambridge, Mass., is the world's best, and in the men's 100-meter dash, where Yank speedsters may be ready to pull an upset and retain U.S. supremacy.

America also looked to add to its total of four gold medals in two swimming finals tonight—the men's 400-meter medley relay, and the women's 400-meter freestyle.

Russia, leading with nine gold medals and 16 1/2 points to America's runner-up 110 points, also had an eye on additional titles.

Friday's semis with a repechage however. The Soviet was favored in two women's track and field in the 2,000 meters (1 mile, 427 yards). All races are at that distance.

Karen Anderson Oldham of San Diego, the lone U.S. entry, qualified for the women's javelin on her final toss, 106 feet, 7 inches.

Russia's Elvira Ozolina led the qualifiers with 174 1/2.

HOPE, ARKANSAS

Bobcats Off to Jamboree on Friday

By Jimmy Jones Jr.

The Bobcats will travel to Camden tomorrow night to compete in the Camden Jamboree.

The Jamboree, which is scheduled for 8 p. m., will feature

Hope, Smackover, Fairview, and the host team, Camden. The Jamboree will be one regulation length game. Each team will play two quarters. The matches will be decided by drawing straws.

The two short straws will play in the first quarter, and the two long straws will play in the second quarter. The third quarter will match the losers of the first half to determine the third place team. The winners of the first half will meet in the last quarter to determine the champion.

If there are no scores, the winner of each quarter will be determined by the penetrations, then the winner will be decided by the number of first downs and the yards gained by each team.

Smackover, at the present time, seems to be the odds on favorite to win the conference and the Jamboree. The Bucks are light, but quick. They will be hard to hold on the ground and in the air.

Joe Black, a 200 pounder, will lead the Bucks on the ground. The big fullback was right at the top of the leading ground-gainers in the district last year. Smackover will base its aerial attack on Ken

Parks, a veteran quarterback.

Parks favorite receivers will be

Halback Bobby Burnett and ends

Tommy Burnett and Jake Honea.

Camden, the host team, will field one of the fastest backfields in the district. Three lettermen will be in the Panther backfield, fullbacks Buddy Jordan and Barry Spigner and fullback

George McCarty. The Panthers have 13 lettermen to fill the position left by graduation.

Fairview will have 11 lettermen, four of these being backs. The main strength of the Cardinals will be sophomores and juniors.

Coach John Pierce, who has produced two AAA conference champions in as many years, said,

"The boys aren't in shape, but that is something we are working on."

Here is the lineup for the Bobcats:

LE, Stewart Greene, David

Moore; LT, Billy Walters; LG,

Junior McNatt; Center, Tommy

Jones, Tommy Roberts; RG, Sonny Kitchens; RT, Charles Beyer-

ley, Tommy Mosier; RE, Curtis

Churchwell; RH, Larry Arnett;

FB, Undecided; LH, Joe Duke;

QB, Jimmy Lloyd.

Earl Ray Murphy, Tony Mc-

Larty, David Porterfield, Charles

Beggs and John Crain will play on defense for the Bobcats.

ROME (AP)—Five finals in Friday's Olympic track competition—the heaviest day of all—should see championship divided among four countries. The United States, as usual, will end up with the major share on a pair of wins.

My predictions are for American gold medals by Ralph Boston in the broad jump and Glenn Davis in the 400 meter hurdles. Belgium and Germany are picked to grab their only titles while Russia gets the first of its three championships.

The 400-meter hurdles should produce an American sweep.

Davis, defending champion and world record holder, is ready to lower his own international figure of 49.2.

Since South Africa's Gert Polgieter is out of the games because of an injury, the way is paved for Dick Howard and Cliff

Cushman to take home the other two medals. Germany's Helmut

Janz is the best of the Europeans.

It isn't hard to name Boston as winner of the broad jump. Curring fast this year, he has been over 26 feet eight times in his last two meets. Jesse Owens'

Olympic record of 26-5, should fall and Boston's world mark of 26-11 1/4 is jeopardized.

The scramble for the remaining medals will be fierce. Manfred Steinback of Germany is my choice for second over Irv Robertson of the United States. Igor Ter-

Qvanyan of Russia and Henk

Visser of Holland. All have had injury trouble.

Remains of Woman in Septic Tank

SEATTLE, Wash. (AP)—Detectives seeking the wife and stepdaughter of an antique dealer found the remains of a young woman Tuesday in a septic tank at the house where the three had lived.

They stepped up their search for a man known in Seattle as Rabouli Guy Rockwell, 45.

The missing woman are Mari Zihela Rockwell, 40, and her daughter, Dolores Mearns, 18. They disappeared April 1, 1958.

Rockwell, 41, said she last saw him Aug. 3 when he told her he was going to Vancouver, B. C. to buy a collection of antiques.

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Senate today passed by voice vote and sent to the House a bill to create a federal academy to teach anti-communism as a science.

The new institution would be known as the Freedom Academy, and its assigned task would be to develop and teach techniques for use in the cold war, just as the service academies teach military techniques.

No Question About High Jump Champ

(Editor's Note: The following article analyzing Thursday's Olympic events is by Bert Nelson, publisher of the authoritative Track and Field News.)

BY BERT NELSON

ROME (AP)—In both finals on Thursday's Olympic track competition, an American is my favorite to win. But the high jump and 100 meters are vastly different in outlook.

The short sprint is one of the most discussed events of the games. Four great dashmen are in the running. The high jump, however, is the exclusive property of John Thomas, the No. 1 standard of the meet.

Thomas is up against four other seven-footers. But so amazing is his prowess that he is regarded as a cinch. He has done seven feet more than 50 times and holds the world mark at an awe-inspiring 7-3.

Behind Thomas I look for a battle royal. Valeriy Brumel, the youthful Russian, has pushed the European record to 7-1, and countryman Viktor Bolshov, has cleared 7-0 this year. The United States has defending Olympic champion Charles Dumas and 17-year-old Joe Patsi, each has cleared 7 feet.

My pick for second, though, is the Swedish veteran Stig Pettersson. His best is 6-11 but he is very consistent and a fine competitor. Next I like Dumas, also a good fighter, Brumel, Bolshov and Patsi, who has been slowed by an injured foot.

The height will be at least 7-2, well over Dumas' Olympic record of 6-11 1/2.

The 100 meters features three North Americans against Europe's finest. Ray Norton and Dave Sime of the United States both are 10.1 men, which was the accepted world record until last week. But they face Canada's 19-year-old Jerry Jerome and Germany's Armin Hary, the new co-holders of the mark at 10 flat.

I like Sime to win. The fastest man alive in early 1959, he was knocked out of the Melbourne games by an injury and hasn't been himself since. But he is coming fast now and can take it all if he gets a decent start.

Behind Sime I look for Hary to hold on for second with Jerome, who may be bolstered by inexperience, grabbing the third. Norton gets the fourth.

The steeplechase figures to be monopolized by the Europeans, headed by new world record holder (8:31.4) Zdzislaw Kryzowski of Poland, three strong Russians, including ex-record holder Senyov Rzhishchin, and Germany's Hermann Buhl.

On past performances American's Phil Coleman, Deacon Jones and George Young don't figure to make the final. But all three are capable of much better times than Jones' 9:49.7.

In the 800 meters, Roger Moens of Belgium, and perhaps all three of America's sub-1:47 runners—Tom Murphy, Jerry Siebert and Ernie Conliffe—should advance to the finals.

In the 400-meter hurdles I look for an American sweep, with Glenn Davis defending his title and Dick Howard edging Cliff Cushman for second.

Yacht Reported in Distress

HONOLULU (AP)—The 136-foot yacht, Wild Goose, with 18 persons aboard, reported today it was sinking 220 miles south of Honolulu.

The Coast Guard said it received a radio distress call from the motor vessel at 3:1 a.m.

Two planes were dispatched to the area. A Coast Guard spokesman said one would try to drop emergency pumps on the yacht.

The Wild Goose II, owned by Max Wyman, Seattle, Wash., lumberman, carried 18 members of three families, including a 4-year-old heart patient.

Presidential Electors to Be Selected

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—Arkansas Democrats picked eight presidential electors today and the state party chairman expressed a hope they would back the Kennedy-Johnson ticket.

Voters will decide on the elector nominations in the November general election.

Former Gov. Homer Adkins of Malvern and Knox Kinney of Fort Smith were named electors-at-large.

The others, selected by congressional districts, were: 1st District, Ben Butler of Osceola; 2nd, J. Wesley Brown of Pechonolas; 3rd, William S. Baker of Harrison; 4th, Ben Shaver of Texarkana; 5th, Alton B. Hancey of Little Rock; and 6th, Garland Brewster Jr., of Pine Bluff.

Tom Harper of Fort Smith, party secretary, told the Democratic State Committee after the electors were named.

"It is my earnest hope, that these persons, if elected in November, will cast their votes for the party's nominees, Sen. John Kennedy and Lyndon Johnson. I hope this committee feels the same way about it."

Harper said he would "personally guarantee that each of these people (electors) is a slomp-down Democrat."

Under Arkansas law, presidential electors are not obligated to vote for the nominees of their party.

The electors were named after the committee formally set Sept. 9 as the date for the party's state convention here.

Dr. J. Lee Moore of Harrison was named temporary convention chairman and keynote speaker.

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—The State Democratic Committee plans to name eight presidential electors at a meeting today.

Except for this, the session is expected to be routine.

Tom Harper of Fort Smith, state Democratic Party chairman, said the only other major business would be confirmation of some plans for the Democrats' state convention here Sept. 9.

Arkansas Republicans already have named eight presidential electors.

Forestry Leaders to Visit State

MEMPHIS (AP)—Forty forestry leaders from foreign countries will visit Arkansas on a 750-mile southern tour beginning Sept. 12.

The visitors, among 2,000 delegates to the Fifth World Forest Congress at Seattle, Wash., will tour the International Paper Co.'s new Pine Bluff paper mill and visit the Crosssett Co.'s sawmill, chemical plant and woodlands in Crosssett.

They also will visit in Louisiana and Tennessee. The tour will begin after the close of the forestry congress Sept. 10.

More Pressure at Memphis Expected

MEMPHIS (AP)—Police were prepared today for more integration pressure from Negro demonstrators who, in the past 10 days, have staged sit-ins at churches, bus and railroad stations and variety and drug stores.

Five more Negroes were arrested and charged with disorderly conduct yesterday after refusing to move to the rear of a transit company bus.

In a move that appeared to be related to the sit-ins, Police Commissioner Claude A. Armistead announced that 12 Negro policemen will be added to the police force in October.

The increase would be the first since Negroes were hired in 1949 and would raise to 20 the number of Negroes on the force.

2nd Hungary Medal

ROME (AP)—Percy Némethy of Hungary won his country's second gold medal of the 17th Olympic Games, finishing first in the modern pentathlon event today. Navy Lt. Bob Beck of the United States was third after leading Hungary in the last event.

Good Forgotten

CORTLAND, N.Y. (AP)—Good deeds done by police officers are almost immediately forgotten. One mislaid by a bad cop is never forgotten, a judge told a policeman who admitted stealing $2,721 from a store. City Judge Albert C. Comandini sentenced Harold J. Burton, Jr., 27, Monday to a six-month jail term and a year probation.

UN Envoy to Confer With King Hussein

By SPIRO ELISSA

AMMAN, Jordan (AP) — U.N. representative P. J. Spillane arrived today to confer with King Hussein, who has charged that "responsible people" in the United Arab Republic were linked with the bomb assassination of Premier Hazza Majali.

Spillane, U.N. chief in the Middle East, was ordered by Secretary-General Dag Hammarskjold to rush here from Geneva to deal with the new crisis threatened in the Middle East.

Hussein many times has complained that President Gamal Abdel Nasser of the U.A.R. is trying to destroy his throne.

At a news conference Tuesday, Hussein charged that "people in Cairo" were aware of the bomb plot in which Majali and 10 other people were killed and 31 injured.

Hussein added that the assassins "were linked up with responsible people in the United Arab Republic—mainly in Syria."

Two employees of the Jordan Press Bureau are reported to have fled to Syria after planting the two time bombs that exploded in Majali's office and the Press Bureau Monday.

The newspaper Al Jihad said demolition experts examining the ruins of the offices found other unexploded bombs in the building. The Amman radio broadcast accused the U.A.R. of intrigue and treason for allegedly harboring the assassins.

Hussein demanded extradition of the two suspects from the U.A.R.

Would Locate AF Groups in Arkansas

WASHINGTON (AP)—Arkansas members of Congress have asked Air Force Secretary Dudley C. Sharp to locate Air Force base support or reserve recovery group in their state.

They also have asked that the Air Force waive certain strength requirements for reserve units which the year might cost the state some of its units if strictly adhered to at his time.

After the Air Force set up test locations for the new base support and reserve recovery groups, Arkansas sought to have one or more assigned the state. This was not done.

Now, the Arkansans say, the test period is about over and the state would like to be considered as location of one or more of the new groups to which its Air Reserve units might attach themselves.

The Air Force has set up strength requirements for reserve units under which officers and enlisted men are supposed to train separately. If this is enforced as to present Arkansas units, the Arkansas delegation told Sharp, they might not be able to meet the strength requirements.

If requirements are waived until after the test period is ended, the units could attach themselves to a new base support or recovery group and by consolidating could have sufficient strength to meet requirements.

Delegation members said they believe there is a chance that Little Rock and possibly Blytheville

Can She Bake A Cereal Pie?

She can bake a cereal pie in the twinkling of an eye—and the aroma brings Billy Boy and his father chasing to breakfast. This pie is first cousin to Apple Pie, and a quick new way to add excitement to a back-to-school breakfast.

This version of an apple pie is so easy to make that even an eight-year old can easily prepare it. It's a variation on the basic breakfast pattern of fruit, cereal, milk, bread and butter. This quick cereal apple pie served with milk on top and to drink combines most of the essentials of a basic breakfast pattern into a delightful new creation which adds variety to that all-important meal—Breakfast.

Why don't you encourage your young daughter to bake a cereal pie during September—the 10th Anniversary of National Better Breakfast Month? Better Meals Build Better Families—Better Meals Start with Better Breakfasts.

Quick Cereal Pie

- 1 can (1 pound 6 ounce) apple, peach or blueberry pie filling
- 3 cups corn flakes, crushed to make 1 1/2 cups crumbs
- 1/4 cup melted butter or margarine
- 2 tablespoons brown sugar
- 1 teaspoon cinnamon

Spoon pie filling into an 8-inch pie pan. Combine and lightly mix corn flakes, butter or margarine, brown sugar, and cinnamon; sprinkle over pie filling. Bake in moderate oven (350°F) until cereal is lightly browned and filling is heated, about 15 minutes. Serve with milk. Yield: 6 servings.

Says He Was Asked by CIA to Spy

CHICAGO (AP)—A young business executive says he was asked by the Central Intelligence Agency to spy during a trip to the Soviet Union but refused.

The CIA approached Robert Berlin, 28, vice president of a sales company in June 1968 as he prepared for a trip, which included 10 days in the Soviet Union, Berlin said Tuesday.

Berlin said he refused because of the risk involved and because he does not think it right for a tourist to spy.

"A lot of people have told me I would get in trouble telling this story, but I believe in expressing what I think," Berlin said.

In an interview with the Chicago American, Berlin said he revealed the request because the U. S. government has protested that some American tourists have been called spies and expelled from the Soviet Union.

In Washington the CIA had no comment on Berlin's story, the American said. The newspaper, however, quoted a spokesman as saying that "It's our business to seek information wherever we can get it, just as the Russians try to get information. And it is a lot easier for them to get it."

might be selected by the Air Force as locations for one of the new groups.

Faubus Not to Attend Meet

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—Gov. Orval E. Faubus said today he will not attend a four state democratic Party strategy conference in New Orleans Sept. 9 because that is the date for the Arkansas Democratic Convention.

Faubus said he was invited to the New Orleans meeting by Sen. George S. Mathers (D-Fla.), Southern campaign manager for Sen. John L. Kennedy, the Democratic presidential nominee.

Faubus said he would ask state party officials if they wanted to send anyone to New Orleans.

The governor repeated he was not ready to disclose his position on the Democratic presidential ticket of Kennedy and Sen. Lyndon Johnson of Texas. He reiterated, however, that he opposes the civil rights plank in the party's platform.

State Escapes Polio Epidemic

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—Arkansas apparently has escaped a repeat of last year's polio epidemic.

The state Health Department's latest communicable disease report showed only 14 cases reported through Aug. 27, compared with 168 cases during the same period last year.

"It looks good," said Dr. J. T. Herron, state health officer. "I feel we have escaped another epidemic. We got through the summer and that's the most dangerous period for polio."

Only five of the 1960 cases were of the paralytic type. There were no deaths.

Ten persons died of polio last year when the total of cases reached 309.

Agree on Fish Program Bill

WASHINGTON (AP)—A Senate-House conference committee agreed today on a bill designed to promote a fish and wildlife program on military reservations.

The bill would set up a co-operative program under which special hunting and fishing permits would be sold and the money put back into a wildlife and fish program.

A Senate Commerce Committee report said that more than 25 million acres are controlled by the Defense Department.

Except for migratory game birds, the management of wildlife and fish on military reservations is subject to state laws.

Two Escape Injury

HOT SPRINGS, Ark. (AP)—Two men escaped injury yesterday when their car traveled some 400 feet off Highway 7, then plunged 20 feet into Lake Hamilton.

Officers said Nick H. Patton, 21, of Lewisville, the driver, and Jack Nowlin, 21, of Arkadelphia, crawled out a window to safety.

Crop Duster Killed

PARKIN, Ark. (AP)—The pilot of a crop dusting plane was killed yesterday when the craft crashed and burned in a cotton field near the edge of the city.

Killed was Gates Conner, 50, of Memphis, an employee of the Parkin Flying Service. Witnesses said the plane was 75 to 100 feet in the air, dusting a cotton field, when it fell.

Lana Turner to Take 5th Husband

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—A handsome rancher and horse breeder will be Lana Turner's fifth husband.

He is Fred May, a crewcut sportsman who once tried to slug a Hollywood columnist he said had insulted her.

The couple stopped Tuesday in Santa Ana, en route to the races at Del Mar, and obtained a marriage license. They wouldn't say when they will wed.

Lana gave her age as 38. May is a young-looking 43. It will be his second marriage.

May made such a success of a half-dozen enterprises, including an export-import business, that he was able to retire to ranching at 38. His two children by his first marriage live at his Chino Calif. ranch.

Friends wondered if Lana, when wed to May, might be able to regain custody of her teenage daughter, Cheryl.

It was during the furor over Cheryl's escape from a county-operated girl's school that May tried to swing on a Hollywood trade paper writer.

The column to which May objected criticized Miss Turner's upbringing of Cheryl, now 17. Cheryl was made a ward of Superior Court after she fatally stabbed her mother's hoodlum lover, John Stompanato, in 1958.

Miss Turner was previously wed to millionaire Henry J. (Bob) Topping, to Cheryl's father, restaurateur Steve Crano, and to band-leader Artie Shaw.

3 Jailed in $30,000 Gem Robbery

NEW YORK (AP)—Three men were arrested today in connection with the spectacular $30,000 theft of gems from a show window at Cartier's famed 5th Ave. jewelry house, June 25.

Police said they found what they believe to be all the precious stones, stripped of their platinum settings, in a plain brown paper bag. They also recovered a bundle of valuable securities.

The arrests, climaxing a joint investigation by city police and FBI agents, came after an elaborate trailing operation through the city Tuesday night.

About 30 men in seven cars, keeping in touch by radio and taking short turns to allay suspicion, shadowed two of the men as they drove meanderingly from Manhattan to Brooklyn and back.

Around midnight, the two men in the car, Kingdon deNormand, 51, of the Bronx, and Joseph Coffey, 23, of Manhattan, were finally stopped. A third man, Juan Pasquale Fuca, 27, was arrested at his Manhattan home.

Police found the bag of jewels in the car along with a tape-wrapped hammer. In deNormand's pocket, police said, was a packet of negotiable bonds estimated to be worth $30,000. Police said the bonds were believed stolen in burglaries last month.

The three men, all with criminal records, denied any part in the Cartier burglary. DeNormand told officers he got the gems and bonds from "a friend of mine named Frank."

DeNormand was charged with receiving stolen goods, Coffey with burglary, and Fuca with vagrancy for associating with known criminals.

Coffey, police said, is the burglar who shattered Cartier's window in the early hours of June 25 and scooped up more than 30 pieces of jewelry.

A Cartier guard, Conrad Millson, caught a fleeting glimpse of a man diving through the window of a car and saw the car race away.

to help business out of the doldrums have been of little avail so far. But many think the real effects will show up once people get down to work again after Labor Day.

They count on recent moves to make credit more available and interest rates lower to encourage businessmen to build up inventories again. Many think stocks have been cut about as low as they can safely go.

The same monetary forces may help the housing industry, although the real gains there may be pushed back now until spring.

The optimists think the down cycle in the metals industries should have about run its course—although a drop in machine tool orders seems to foretell slack capital spending by industry. But good consumer acceptance of the forthcoming new car models could offset that.

Seasonal Gains Seen by Business

By SAM DAWSON

AP Business News Analyst NEW YORK (AP)—Businessmen are winding up their so-so summer and looking with a faith that's more than usually shaky toward a real pickup in the fall.

The calendar says autumn is three weeks off. But business is used to calling Labor Day the end of summer and its general let-down.

Modest seasonal gains seem assured. Yet business hopes for more than that. But only a few are daring to predict a really good increase in activity—perhaps because so many business executives remember that their New Year's pronouncements of golden days ahead left them with embarrassing explanations to meet at their annual stockholder meetings.

The stock market reflects the general uncertainty today. Its traditional summer rally was late this year. The equally traditional September reaction could be off schedule, too. The big price movements, one way or the other, have been in special stocks rather than those that historically are bulwarks of the economy.

Biggest disappointments of the summer have been steel's inability as yet to climb out of its private recession, a pileup in unsold appliances, sluggish home building, sticky totals of unemployment, profit squeezes on many big corporations.

Best of the black ink items have been high personal incomes, still rising if more cautious consumer spending, a money market that isn't really very easy but is no longer tight, refusal of the majority of Americans to panic at foreign alarms, business slowness, or dire campaign predictions as to whether we may be going.

TWO-MINUTE MYSTERY

THE CASE OF THE DEADLY PHONE CALL

By DONALD J. SOBEL

"Doctor? This is Rodney Adams," came the husky voice over the telephone. "Can you come to my house right away? It's urgent—Corky, don't—!"

The report of a gun... and silence. Dr. Haledjian raced outside, but was delayed five minutes in getting a taxicab.

"Thank heaven you came, doctor," gasped Bill Adams, a nephew. "I called the police. They're in the study."

Dr. Haledjian greeted Inspector Winters and took the scene in at a glance. Rodney Adams, still holding the telephone receiver, lay slumped over his desk, a bullet in his forehead.

"Bill can tell you what happened," said the inspector.

"I had come down from my room to get a book when I heard my uncle telephone you," said the nephew. "At the sound of a gun, I burst through the door, just in time to see a man jump out that window."

"Who is Corky?" demanded Haledjian.

"Adams' attorney, John 'Corky' Calhoun," answered the nephew. "I sent two men over to his address."

"I couldn't swear it was Corky," admitted the nephew. "I saw only his back as he jumped."

At that moment two police officers brought in Corky Calhoun. "Sure, I was here tonight," he said. "I left an hour ago. Rodney and I quarreled, but I didn't kill him!"

"...I burst through the door, just in time to see a man jump out that window."

HALEDJIAN AGREED. DO YOU?

There was a moment of silence.

Then he spoke.

"The man who jumped out the window was calling me 'Corky'."

"The nephew could not have attempted to frame Corky."

Haledjian believed the nephew had made the telephone call and had made the telephone call and had made the telephone call.

Shakespeare Played Same as Original

By BOB THOMAS
AP Movie-TV Writer

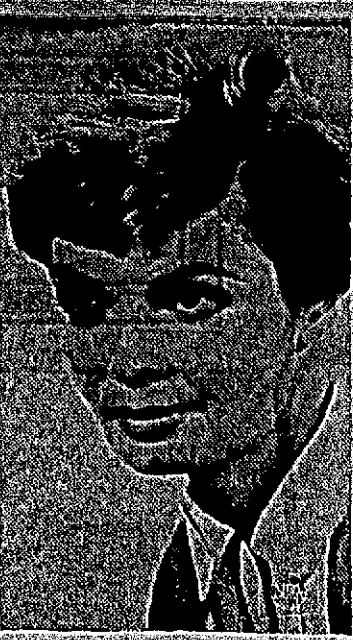

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (AP)—Here this warm, seaside metropolis will Shakespeare is being played much the same as when he was originally presented three and a half centuries ago.

Now, as then, he's doing great business.

The Globe Theater in Balboa Park is booming through its 11th summer of producing the Bard as was. The commercial and artistic success of the venture should give heart to proponents of the live theater throughout the land.

San Diego used to be a lively show town. George Thomas, long-time playwright and editor of the old Sun, tells me that all the road shows played San Diego and there were local theater groups, too. But the legitimate theater dwindled with the rise of movies.

The Globe was born as an attraction of the exposition of 1935. Patrons were treated to 50-minute versions of Shakespeare's plays in authentic atmosphere. The building was as close as possible to the Elizabethan theater—octagonal in shape with jutting stage, tiers of boxes for the nobility and a pit where the groundlings mingled. The structure was saved from demolition after the exposition and converted to a more normal playhouse. During the war, it was used as a Navy lecture hall, then resumed as a community theater under the direction of Craig Noel. Business was fair to middling.

The summer Shakespeare festival was strictly amateur, drawing from San Diego State and other college students supported by locally financed scholarships. Last season, the Globe took a giant step toward professionalism by signing a nucleus of New York actors.

"We lost $12,000, which is a large deficit for a community theater," said production manager William Eaton. "But we decided to try it again this summer. The gamble paid off. Last week we played to 99.5 per cent capacity."

Demo Ticket Supported by Arkansans

WASHINGTON (AP)—Arkansas House members today generally indicated support for the Kennedy-Johnson ticket.

Rep. E. C. Gallings said "I always have supported the Democratic candidates and shall do so this year regardless of the fact that the platform is not one which I favor or would have written."

Rep. J. W. Trimble said he expects to support the ticket, although "I was dissatisfied with parts of the platform and cannot support it in congress."

Said Rep. Dale Alford (D-Ark): "I am a Democrat of the Jeffersonian type. I cannot support the platform of either party."

Rep. Wilbur Mills said that although he would oppose portions of the Democratic or Republican platform, "efforts are made to enact them in Congress. It is my intention to vote for all Democratic candidates, including president and vice president."

Rep. Owen Harris said he already had stated that he will support the national ticket, and added: "I do oppose the Democratic platform, but that doesn't mean I am quitting the organization."

Chatter in Wall Street Circles

NEW YORK (UPI)—Marilyn Gilbert of Van Alstyne, Noel & Co. says that a certain amount of pre-labor day anxiety usually prevails because this is when most investors — and speculators — pause to review near term business conditions.

"This usually resolves itself in some precautionary selling," he says, and this is apparently what is taking place here.

At the present time, Gilbert prefers to judge future stock market action solely on technical considerations and on this basis remains optimistic.

The Pitch Survey says there is nothing in sight to produce any sharp up or down movements in the market, but with a little more decisively optimistic U.S. news a further sustained recovery trend could get under way.

Standard & Poor's believes the domestic oils to be in a buying range and favors Atlantic Refining, Cities Service, Continental Oil, Monterey, Phillips, Petrol, Richfield, Shell, Indiana and Ohio Standard, Tidewater and Union Oil.

Shearson, Hamill & Co. has a list for "not only the best protection against fluctuations in business activity and technical market corrections, but also the most consistent opportunities for capital gains." American Broadcasting, Paramount, American Gratings, American Optical, Armstrong Cork, Brown Co., Du Bois Chemical, Gillette, Hertz, International Tel. & Tel., Northrup, Plough, G. D. Waters Soon to Cover a Landmark MONTE NE, Ark. (AP)—Back in the 1920s, W. H. (Coin) Harvey dreamed of building a 150-foot pyramid to stand against the wave of the future.

Harvey, once the presidential nominee of the Liberty Party, thought civilization was doomed. He wanted to keep records of his time in vaults at the base of the pyramid.

But the Depression stymied the project. Harvey got only as far as an amphitheater near the proposed site of the lofty shaft.

Soon even this vestige of Harvey's dream will be gone. Army engineers say that within three years or so, the waters of Beaver Reservoir will roll over Monte Ne.

Harvey, a writer on economics whose theories influenced William Jennings Bryan in his unsuccessful "free silver" presidential campaign in 1896, promoted this resort town near Rogers.

Around the turn of the century, tourists from throughout the nation relaxed at two great log hotels and the springs and pavilions in the area.

Differences between Harvey and other stockholders in the enterprise led to sale of the resort at auction. Tourist attraction waned, and now Monte Ne is partly deserted.

The colorful Harvey was nominated for the presidency on the Liberty Party ticket in 1931, when delegates from 25 states gathered here. Harvey, in his 60s, polled 50,000 votes the next year. Death took Harvey in 1936. He and his son, Robert Halliday Harvey, are buried in an above-ground tomb near the amphitheater.

H. C. McKinney, head of the Army Engineers real estate division at Little Rock, estimates that Monte Ne will be under 15 feet of water when Beaver Reservoir is completed.

He said a special dike would be required to preserve the Harvey tomb, and it would be costly to chisel through concrete in order to remove the caskets.

McKinney plans to ask next-of-kin whether they wish to leave the tomb alone, and allow the waters to flow over it.

"I imagine if Coin had any say so about it, he'd rather be left there," McKinney said.

New Livestock Building Planned

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—The Arkansas Livestock Exposition will build a new $200,000 Merchants' and Industrial Building on its show grounds here.

The building is to be completed in time for the 1961 livestock show. Board Chairman C. Hamilton Moses said after an Exposition board meeting yesterday.

He said the board will try to finance the building without state funds. Financing will be discussed at a board meeting during the 1960 exposition Oct. 3-8.

The merchants and industrial exhibit now is housed in tents.

Against All Mixing at Sports Events

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP)—Hardly a man today would deny women the right to vote.

But many thoughtful American men would avidly support that is, if they didn't have to stand up and be counted—a constitutional amendment banning the mingling of sexes at sporting events.

There is a growing male feeling that women insist on being interested in sports. They should have their own baseball and football major leagues, their own ice hockey teams, perhaps even their own fishing and hunting preserves—and certainly their own golf courses.

No men would be admitted as spectators to the ladies' league games, and—naturally—no women would be allowed at the men's league contests.

What has spurred this silent, masculine demand for sex segregation in sports? The rise of the lady sports fan. She is the most dubious product of the modern equal rights movement.

Here is how she is viewed by some masculine sports addicts who, for reasons of their own—they're married—choose to remain anonymous:

"It was kind of cute thirty years ago to take a girl to a football or baseball game. She asked so many dumb questions it made a man feel superior," one recalled.

"But in a single generation the lady sports fan has graduated from a know-nothing to a know-it-all. She is an authority on everything—from Mickey Mantle's emotional weaknesses as a batter to Casey Stengel's psychological defects as a manager. She brings Freud to baseball.

"And she insists on giving her views out loud. Anybody who sits within shouting distance of two dames at a ball game has numb ears by the third inning."

Another man objected to lady sports fans on the ground they are too bloodthirsty.

"Actually, they are man haters at heart," he said. "Sometime earlier in life they figure some man gave them a raw deal, and they want to see all mankind punished. They want to see men hurt."

"At home they screech at the sight of a mouse. But they don't enjoy a boxing match until somebody gets a nose busted, or a football game unless the halfback breaks his leg.

"I got the real tipoff on women sports fans when I took one to a bullfight in Mexico. Who do you think she rooted for? The matador? Not her. She kept yelling, 'Come on, bull! Get him, bull! Get him, get him, get him!'"

"When the bull finally lost, she broke out crying, and said the whole thing was unfair."

What about it, lady sports fans? Are you really dogmatic, man-hating, possessive, and wildly obsessed with the determination you can beat a man at any game he chooses?

Is there really no chivalry left in the feminine bosom? Or are these men just cry babies?

Weather Station Is Out for Now

WASHINGTON (AP)—A special weather service for farmers in southern and eastern Arkansas is now out of the picture for the near future.

Sen. J. William Fulbright (D-Ark.) disclosed today that a House-Senate conference committee had eliminated a $50,000 item for this purpose from a supplemental appropriation bill. The Senate had added the item at Fulbright's request.

Both Fulbright and Rep. E. C. Gathings (D-Ark.) had sought to get the service started by next spring. But the conference committee action means that no money will be available for it until after next July 1, at the earliest.

Both Fulbright and Gathings said today they will ask the Commerce Department to include an item in its budget for the 1961-62 year for the service.

Such a service was started in Mississippi more than a year ago and proved so successful that surrounding states now want the same thing. The service provides weather data so that farmers won't apply costly fertilizers at the wrong time—that is, just ahead of showers and rain.

The service is estimated to have saved Mississippi farmers more than two million dollars in the first year of its operation.

Farmers Soup Changes Name

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—The Arkansas Farmers Assn. now is the Southern Farmers Assn.

Constitutional W. W. Elrod, Little Rock said changing the name of the cooperative association yesterday "could lead to a branching out in the future."

The organization has about 50 member some dealing in feed and farm supplies in Arkansas, Louisiana and Oklahoma.
